

A product range tailored to your sector

We are making every effort to be able to respond rapidly and efficiently to our customers' wishes and needs. Accordingly our Retail customers can count on Ardo for a broad range that fits in perfectly with the customer's lifestyle and constantly changing habits. We develop products for our FoodService customers that are suitable for the latest cooking technologies and aimed at efficient applications in a strong and attractive Ardo brand. Our customers in the Food Ingredients segment can rely consistently on top quality, freshness and a production process that complies with the most stringent HACCP-standards.

Our product policy is market-driven and aims for diversity and quality. Therefore, we make different product groups, each with their own added value and convenience in the kitchen.

Your partner for fresh frozen vegetables, herbs and fruit

Ardo in a nutshell

Year after year, harvest after harvest, Ardo supplies its continuously growing markets around the world with high quality fresh frozen vegetables, herbs, fruit, pasta, rice and potatoes.

Innovation at all levels

Our knowledge throughout the whole chain combined with our flexible approach allows us to satisfy current and adapt to future market needs through innovation, investment and technical excellence. At Ardo, we are always developing new products in response to market needs and trends.

Thorough product knowledge

In our continual search to improve both our existing products and the range that we offer, we run extensive field trials each year that allow us to take full advantage of our geographical and climatic spread to develop new products and new varieties for our customers.

Local worldwide approach

With a global sales network, there's always a member of our sales team close to hand, to react quickly to local market requirements.

Sustainable partnership

Ardo supports long-term relationships with our growers, our suppliers and our customers, which we believe offer stability for all parties and are necessary to provide the confidence for sustainable investments.

We are working hard to develop truly sustainable ways of growing our crops and producing our products that consider the crop's requirements, the activities of our farmers and the demands of our customers.
